It is a matter of deep regret that our school money was shortened two hundred dollars from the previous year, which resulted in twenty weeks less schooling than the year before. Of these two hundred and a half weeks, thirty-six were taught by male teachers, at an average of thirty-four and one-fourth dollars per month—one hundred and sixty-four and one-half weeks, by females, at an average of seventeen dollars and a fraction.

“ The progress made in each school in the various branches of learning,” is a subject very difficult to reach, with that degree of justice and impartiality, that the subject demands ; but this much can be said, that the greatest proficiency the past year has been made in reading and spelling, particularly in reading. A regular drill has been instituted in nearly all our schools, that has resulted in a very commendable improvement. Composition writing has been attended to more than formerly, and we have the vanity to believe that the instruction imparted has been of a more practical character than usual.

No. 1. In Miss MINERVA PITKIN, of Winchendon, we had a summer school teacher full of affection and kindness, manifesting a motherly regard for the physical wants of her pupils beyond what has often been seen by your committee.

The winter term in the hands of Mr. HENRY PECK, of Royalston, made rapid progress. In the short term of seven weeks this school progressed more than some others in ten or twelve weeks.

In No. 2 during the summer term we found Miss MATTIE A. COLBURN, of Rindge, one of the most faithful and devoted teachers on the board. It was here that the rehearsal of the Lord's Prayer by the pupils in concert with the teacher, in a solemn tone, with bowed heads, was the most impressive devotional exercise that we ever witnessed in a school house.

The winter school was begun by a Mr. HODGE, of Jaffrey, who left by reason of sickness at the end of three weeks; and the term was closed by the veteran Mr. SAMUEL KENDALL with his usual success.

We found this school the best informed in relation to U. S. government of any in town.

No. 3. The summer term in this district was well taught by Miss E. HELEN BRYANT, of Royalston, Mass., who manifested the tender regards for her pupils, that is shown by the fond mother for a family of children.

The winter term was also taught very satisfactorily to all concerned by Mr. NATHAN HALL, of Westminster, Vt.

No. 4—Had a term of summer school by Miss ABBIE C. THOMPSON, of Richmond, and also a term of winter school by FRANCES C. JONES. This district still maintains its proud pre-eminence in regard to punctuality; being this year, as on several previous years, the only district in town that has passed through both terms of school without a tardy mark. Three other districts have had but one each, two more, but two apiece, and all together but forty-four; the greatest punctuality ever marked in our school Records, or perhaps in any other.

No. 5. The upper department of this school was taught by Miss HELEN A. BRIGHAM, of Boston, Mass., who labored faithfully in her vocation, and being a splendid reader herself was peculiarly successful in teaching this branch to others.

Mr. C. R. CROWELL, of Westminster, Vt., taught the winter term very successfully, being one of the most thorough teachers known.

The lower department was taught through both terms by Miss MARY A. ADAMS, who has labored long in this little field of glory with the greatest possible success. May she be as successful in other avocations as she has been here.

No. 7—By Miss C. A. BROOKS, in summer, whose fondness for teaching resulted in a term kept with faithfulness and fidelity. Miss LIZZIE R. BROWN, of Royalston, Mass. fully sustained the high reputation gained, in the same field, the winter previous, as the very popular and successful successor of an unsuccessful man. In this district we found the finest set of writing books ever shown in a common school, and marks of the greatest improvement.

No. 8—Had the longest schools of any district in town; twenty and one—half weeks. Eight and one-half weeks by Miss CARRIE E. BRITTON, of Hindsdale, in summer; and twelve weeks in winter by Miss SARAH A. REED, of Walpole. In this district was shown the greatest improvement in composition. One piece giving the history of a Newfoundland dog and his tragical death in saving the life of a boy; and another giving the history of a bird's nest in the lilac bush, robbed of its young brood by a savage cat, were specimens of the highest order of childrens' composition, and worthy of introduction into a reading book for little children.

No. 9. Both terms were taught by Miss SARAH J. L. REED, who is a well tried teacher and was not found wanting here, but fully sustained her previous high standing as an able teacher and thorough disciplinarian.

No. 10. In this district Miss EMELINE S. JEWELL, though a beginner, proved herself able and efficient both in teaching and discipline, making her little brood appear like a host.

In No. 11—Miss BRYANT fully sustained herself, and added to the fair fame acquired in No. 3. The winter term was taught to the satisfaction of the district by Miss MATTIE A. BUFFUM, of Royalston, Mass. But your committee recorded against her that "she told her scholars too much, lifting them over obstructions before they had time to try their own strength." This fault was found with others and was on the whole the great sin of several teachers.

No. 12. The summer term by Miss ISABEL C. MAY, was one of the most interesting terms of school ever witnessed. There seemed to be a union of all parties concerned to make this as good as school could be.

The winter term by Miss THOMPSON from No. 4 was also exceedingly interesting. Ten of the fourteen scholars were neither absent or tardy;—we think the best instance of constant attendance ever recorded in town.—Another interesting object was ten writing books by the ten constant scholars, all written through, without a blot and with marks of great improvement.

The subject of dismissals was brought forward last year and a record of 528 read; this year we have reduced the number to 197. We believe in dismissals and think it would be better to dismiss the whole school an hour earlier than formerly, and more especially the small ones should be sent off as a matter of health to the children, as well as convenience to the teacher; but particular dismissals from classes that have not recited should never be allowed except for sickness or death.

It is not our design to dwell on what has been done so much as on suggestions for the future. For this purpose I call your attention to the subject of absent days, which stand upon our Registers as follows: In summer while not members of the schools, 539; from sickness, 179; other causes, 290; total, 1000. In winter while not members, 736; from sickness, 318; other causes, 485; total, 1539; grand total, 2539. Large as this sum appears, it is less by nearly a thousand than last year, the grand total then being 3511. Ought we not, fellow citizens, to look into this matter and enquire who it is that is thus robbing our treasury of the public funds? Who is robbing us of well educated heirs, and our country of able defenders in the hour of danger and distress? Can nothing be done to remedy this great evil? One single district has thus thrown away 840 of these days. If no other remedy can be found, let us make a different distribution of the school money, giving a larger share to those districts that make the best use of what they have. It seems to me that common justice requires this at our hands.

FINANCIAL.

The amount of school money raised by the town was $1000.00, to which was added the Literary Fund, $119.28, and the whole was divided among the several districts as follows :

No. of District.	Amount of money appropriated.	No. of Scholars.	Per Scholar.	Visits by P. Com.	Visits by S. S. Com.
1.	107.45	59	1.82	6	5
2.	76.62	24	3.16	4	5
3.	111.85	38	2.94	7	6
4.	74.42	19	3.91	5	5
5.	279.20	117	2.38	12	12
6.	11.44	goes to Troy.
7.	76.08	35	2.17	6	5
8.	103.04	23	4.48	8	6
9.	72.22	24	3.01	3	4
10.	59.88	18	3.32	3	4
11.	77.50	18	4.30	5	4
12.	69.58	19	3.66	3	6

The distribution of our school money has been unequal and unjust for several of the past years, for which reason we recommend instructing the selectmen to take the invoice by districts so as to guide to a more equitable division.

Our School Association, so favorably noticed in our last report, has flourished if possible, better this year than ever before. Not a failure in meetings; not a failure in addresses, and scarcely one in the essays, though three were appointed, instead of two, to each district. Our worthy President, J. S. Adams, Esq., has attended every meeting, and all our operations have been accomplished with very little effort on the part of the Directors. May this blessed institution be cherished as it deserves and be handed down as a legacy to our children, better than money or lands.

The greatest need in our schools is Teachers more deeply interested in the great matter of shaping the destiny of Man. We have teachers enough now, and some whose minds are so deeply imbued in the subject of schools, that they can hardly speak of any other thing—whose waking and sleeping hours are tintured with the same immortal die; and whose presence is felt through the surrounding atmosphere as they approach. The scholars of such teachers feel a pervading influence that impels them to order, with scarce a word and perhaps only a magnetic spark from the speaking eye, which “shoots volleys at a glance”? Such teachers are rare, perhaps very rare, but we have them, and I trust enough can be found to fill all our school rooms, if we will only employ interested agents to do it.

The great fault lies in our district meetings still. We are too careless and remiss there. When we desert this primary meeting, we miss the highest point in our elective franchise. We desert the most sacred post we shall ever hold, that of sentinel on the walls of defence to American Liberty.

This is the spot where the faithful discharge of duty does more for the safety of home and country than can be done in any other place. It is the spring that determines the purity of the stream, and thus it is the district school meeting that will eventually determine the fate of our nation.

I repeat, this is a subject of vast importance. When we send our children to school we tell them they are going there to have their characters formed; we tell them that the man will be to his country what the boy is to his school; we tell them that that teacher is to shape their future destiny; we tell them they must go through life what they are when they leave the school rooms. Under such circumstances why should it not be, that the faithful teacher makes an impression more durable than can be engraved on marble or granite. We all feel these impressions.

To find the teacher to make such impressions shall we send an uninterested man, one that feels no lot or part in the matter. As well send a man to examine a silver mine who never saw the ore. In fact it is easily to be seen, that the great want in our schools, is, not to have men take turns in doing the duty of Prudential Committee, any more than in being blacksmith, merchant, or watch repairer, but in finding the man most interested in the business and best qualified to do it.

If we will squander our vote to elect a man to this responsible office, the most responsible in the gift of the people, who has no interest in the matter, has never shown any, except to make merchandise of it and pocket the advantages of getting the wood or boarding the teacher, we never need expect a full supply of the best of teachers.

All which is respectfully submitted by

S. CUMMINGS, Superintendent.

Total assessments of Taxes of State, County, Town and Schools, including Non Resident Highway Taxes and School house tax in District No. 1 2 and 8 as made by the undersigned in April 1857, amounts to $3575.49.

We would state to your commendation, that notwithstanding the embarrassed condition of all moneyed institutions through the length and breadth of our country and the world, that the tax-payers of Fitzwilliam, with the exception only of the abatements stated in the above report, have paid every dollar of their taxes so promptly, that the Treasury has ever been ready to redeem our orders at sight, and on settlement with the Treasurer, we found the Collector had the receipts in full of State, County and Town Treasurers, and of the School District Agents. As usual we have received no assistance of the County of Cheshire for the support of the poor, but have expended for Paupers $277.37 more the present year than was expended in 1856; and on all other subjects of expenditures the expenses are less than the year 1856. Of the debts contracted prior to and not reported March 10, 1857, we have paid $394.27. The amount paid Schools, Town Officers, Roads and Bridges, Non Resident Highway taxes worked, Abatements and Miscellaneous is $341.32 less than 1856, not including the sum appropriated to repairs of the Town Meeting-house.
